

Enea Secures Consulting Assignment with Honeywell for US Aircraft Project

Stockholm, Sweden, and San Jose, Calif., Oct. 10, 2007 - Enea (Nordic Exchange/Small Cap/ENEAA), a world-leading provider of network software and services, has secured a consulting assignment worth SEK 7 million ($1.1 million) from Honeywell, one of the largest aerospace industry subcontractors in the US.

“For nearly four decades, Enea has been a leader in the provision of safety-critical systems for the defense and aerospace industries,” said Enea’s President and CEO Johan Wall. “Leveraging our mastery of electronic systems, software, processes and tools, Enea has helped equipment makers around the world reduce the risk, cost and time associated with developing high-quality, ultra-reliable, safety-critical systems. The fact that Enea has been engaged on a major US aircraft project with Honeywell demonstrates that our American consulting resources maintain very high standards.” Work has started and will continue for the rest of the year.
